

HOW TO CREATE A RED HAT ID

A Red Hat account gives you access to the Red Hat Academy Learning Platform and allows you to successfully enroll in our program as an administrator, instructor or student. Red Hat will use the personal data collected below, such as your contact information and account information, to create and administer your Red Hat account. This account is required to enroll into the Red Hat Academy program.

If you've created a Red Hat account in the past, you can verify your account at sso.redhat.com and determine if you have a pre-existing account.

To create a new account, follow the steps outlined below.

Step 1: Go to redhat.com and begin completing the form.

Step 2: Confirm your account is Personal – this will be your individual Red Hat Account for all courses and certifications

* Account Type

- Corporate A corporate Red Hat account allows a set of users to centrally purchase or administer systems within a corporate organization (system administrators, purchasing agents, IT management, etc.)
- Personal A personal Red Hat account is for purchasing or administering your own personal systems.

Step 3: Create your individual login information. The Red Hat Login you create will be the Red Hat ID (username) you will use to login to www.redhat.com and <https://rha.ole.redhat.com/rha/app/>.

**Please tie the Red Hat Username to your academic email address if possible.

Login Information

* Create a Red Hat Login:

Your login is a user ID for accessing your account across all Red Hat sites. It must be at least five characters and cannot be changed once created.

* Email Address:

* Password:  Show  Weak

Your password must be at least 8 characters long. A strong password combines lower case letters, upper case letters, numbers, and symbols.

* Confirm Password:  Show

Step 4: Add your Company Information. The Company will be your institution name and your title will reflect your role within the Red Hat Academy program.
